(WSB Radio) The proposed motorsports park in Dawsonville has won approval by the city council.

The vote was unanimous.

Opponents have argued that such a complex would result in too much noise and added pollution.

The developer plans on building a track for owners of high performance cars to see how they'll do.

The council agreed to rezone 152 acres off of Duck Thurmond Road for the park, which will also include tennis courts, a swimming pool and walking trails.
